Leading brands for all your needs

We expect minimum ethical standards from our manufacturers and their associated suppliers. The standards are consistent with the Ethical Trading Initiative Base Code (ETI)

Supplier relationship ethics and management

The quality of our products is essential to the success of our business, and we uphold the highest standards in our selection process.

We carry out supplier appraisals and regular monitoring which include: conformity with manufacturing standards, health and safety management, environmental management, ethics, sustainability and labour practices.

In addition we carry out ongoing monitoring of performance and practices via KPIs and EcoVadis, an evidence based online platform providing supplier sustainability ratings to enable Rexel to assess their ESG performance.

Sustainability in action

Ethical sourcing

We are committed to sourcing our product range responsibly including:

Compliance with the Modern Day Slavery Act

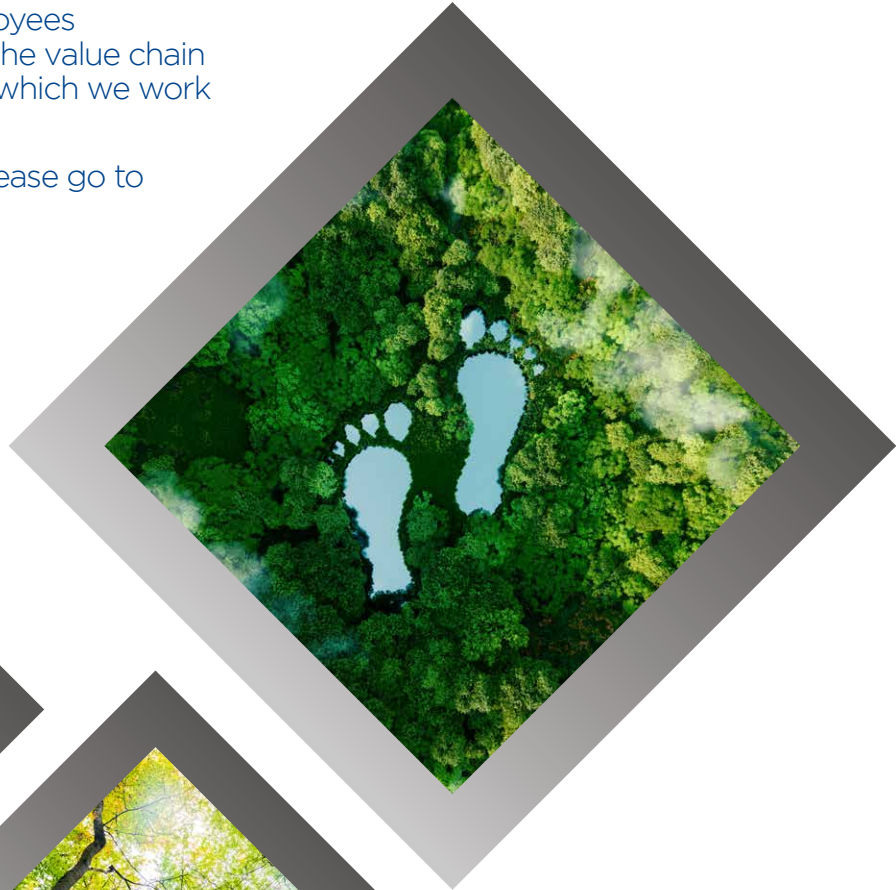

Alongside adhering to the principles of the Ethical Trading Initiative, Rexel has been a signatory of the UN Global Compact since 2011. We have taken the necessary steps to ensure full compliance across our business and supply chain.

Our sustainable development approach

Rexel's Sustainable Development policy is structured around the following pillars:

- Developing innovative energy management solutions for our customers
- Reducing our carbon footprint
- Engaging and supporting our employees
- Promoting responsible practices in the value chain
- Contributing to the communities in which we work
- Acting with integrity and ethics

For more information on these pillars please go to rexel.co.uk/sustainability

Our Commitments

- Reduce our operational carbon footprint to net-zero by 2050
- Reduce our fleet carbon emissions by 75% by 2030
- A signatory of the UN Global Compact since 2011
- Report via Ecovadis platform (awarded Gold Standard)

Sustainability in action

Supplier relationship ethics and management

The quality of our products is essential to the success of our business, and we uphold the highest standards.

We carry out supplier appraisals and regular monitoring which include; conformity with manufacturing standards, health and safety management, environmental management, ethics, sustainability and labour practices.

In addition, we carry out ongoing monitoring of performance and practices via KPIs and EcoVadis; an evidence based online platform providing supplier sustainability ratings to enable Rexel to assess their ESG performance.

Ethical sourcing

We are committed to sourcing our product range responsibly including:

Compliance with the Modern Day Slavery Act

Alongside adhering to the principles of the Ethical Trading Initiative, Rexel has been a signatory of the UN Global Compact since 2011. We have taken the necessary steps to ensure full compliance across our business and supply chain.

Our sustainable development approach

Rexel's Sustainable Development policy is structured around the following pillars:

- Developing innovative energy management solutions for our customers
- Reducing our carbon footprint
- Engaging and supporting our employees
- Promoting responsible practices in the value chain
- Contributing to the communities in which we work
- Acting with integrity and ethics

For more information on these pillars please go to rexel.co.uk/sustainability

Our accreditations

Our Commitments

- Reduce our operational carbon footprint to net-zero by 2050
- Reduce our fleet carbon emissions by 75% by 2030
- A signatory of the UN Global Compact since 2011
- Report via Ecovadis platform (awarded Gold Standard)
